Two light lines awake dusty things
They cut up the darkness with rage

the lines of lightÂ...

Dirty, shapeless objects that cry
They are left in their sad stillness

the lines of lightÂ...

You, brave lines light empty and pain
You, sweet lines light silence and loss

Corpuscles and waves, the lines of lightÂ...

From the small holes you run away
From the great sleep you are afraid

Corpuscles and waves, the lines of lightÂ...

All inside remains lost and unreal
All inside remains wet and cold

Corpuscles and waves, the lines of lightÂ...
