

Dawn Of Azazel

"Northwind"

As the northwind starts to whisper
I open my encrusted eyes
And walk into the beyond
To the land of the thousand skies

As my life slowly fades away
I see the end of this mystery
Now I finally realize
That I can't stay alive

Take me down
Where the sweet becomes the bitter
Take me down
Where the truth is a lie
Take me down
Where hope rots away
Take me down... into the beyond

Tears are falling free
In a neverending stream
Dark signs of the night
The fallen night

... open my eyes... and see

My soul is forlorn
In the cold winds of darkness
And I will never find peace
In my restless heart
