We can do anything you want,
We can live anywhere you want, any place or time
In my heart there's one thing I know
From the start the whole world will know that you are mine
And we'll leave them something to talk about
We'll have no worries from here on out
We'll take on the world together

Let's go back in time and live forever,
Cross through the circuits of time together
Space and time will be our next dimension
Hold on tight here comes our next adventure

There's no stop, there's no stopping us.
There's no end until we feel like it, we are the heroes
We descend upon the night like fires exploding

Through the darkest skies
There's no stopping us

And we'll leave them something to talk about
We'll have no worries from here on out
We'll take on the world together

Let's go back in time and live forever,
Cross through the circuits of time together
Space and time will be our next dimension
Hold on tight here comes our next adventure

Let's go back in time and live forever,
Cross through the circuits of time together
Space and time will be our next dimension
Hold on tight here comes our next adventure
