Escaping out the window crossing boundaries over due
A self sustaining system and I've got to get through Lately the world it seems to bring me nothing new Cruise control the unknown into the deepest dark of blue

I wrote a message saying I just need some time
I'll miss you everyday and you'll always be on my mind
It seems the normal went and left me paralyzed
Cruise control the unknown into the deepest outer skies

I'd like to say, to everyone and everything I'm mad
about you

But I'll keep holding on, until the day I die.

Tell me tell me

Is there any sign of life out there?

Tell me tell me

Any reason I should be aware?

Tell me tell me

And I'm past the point to care about killing time or finding peace of mind.

I often wonder if there's anything above

A breath of life another site greater power of love
In routines obligations count me as undone
Set us free so happily to the deepest depth of sun

I'd like to say, to everyone and everything I'm mad
about you

But I'll keep holding on, until the day I die.

Tell me tell me

Is there any sign of life out there?

Tell me tell me

Any reason I should be aware?

Tell me tell me

And I'm past the point to care about killing time or finding peace of mind.

Tonight, we'll ride the stars.

Tell me tell me

Is there any sign of life out there?

Tell me tell me
Any reason I should be aware?
Tell me tell me
And I'm past the point to care about killing time or finding peace of mind.

Tonight we'll ride the stars.
