I couldn't say this about anybody else, But you.
And I can't explain this felling in myself, but it's true
Cause when I'm stuck here and you're out there
These once short days turn into years
And I have to find a way to work this out

Cause when you're away my heart is too
And when I'm this way nothing feels new
And I can't help but thinkin about you more Cause when you're away I feel like this
And when I'm this way I can't help it
And if this keeps up I'm gonna be lovesore
[Whoa]

No words were spoken that could ever make me feel prepared
To face this great absence with just the memories that we shared
And I wanted to talk so many times
About all the things that changed my life
But how can I if we can never be?
