

Day Method "Too Late, Never"

Visit "Too Late, Never" on MotoLyrics.com

Feeling like I can't go on And hurting cause it's been so long Since I've left what have I become?
This time I'm fighting back

Cause now I know that what I wanted is not what I thought it was
Cause all those times you were breathing lies now your gold has turned to dust
But Now I know the way I should have gone, oh so long ago
And I know it's not too late, I know it's not too late

Defeated, but not yet dead Redeemed by blood instead Victory by grace alone
I no longer call this place my home

Cause now I know that what I wanted is not what I thought it was
Cause all those times you were breathing lies now your
gold has turned to dust
But Now I know the way I should have gone, oh so long
ago
And I know it's not too late, I know it's not too late

I know it's not too late, I know it's not too late Your love is shining through, through these darkened gates
I know it's not too late, I know it's not too late
I know that hope has come, and I know where it's from Visit Day Method page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.