I don't even know why
It never ever crossed my mind
That you were on the sideline
I wish I never wasted time
I don't know if it's wrong or right
The moment that we first tried we were perfectly entwined
You were meant for me just like
Monet was meant for black and white
And I was made for you just like
The stars were made for city light

You and I, we are magnetized
You and I, when our lips collide

It's funny how we're different
We're never ever quite the same
It's like we're at a distance
But close enough to whisper both our names
I'm so scared, but I'm unashamed
It's like we're moving forward
But falling backwards playing games
You were meant for me just like a dream was meant for opened eyes
And I was made for you just like a diamond's made to never shine

You and I, we are magnetized
You and I, when our lips collide
You and I, we are magnetized
You and I, like when stars collide

Four, three, two, one
Love is a loaded gun
Take one shot
My heart is the target
L-O-V-E
Love is a mystery
Fingerprints
That lead you to me
I was meant for you just like I know you're always meant for me

You and I, we are magnetized
You and I, when our lips collide
You and I, we are magnetized
You and I, like when stars collide
