

Days Divide

"One World Apart"

I thought you were the only one that I'd ever see. But you weren't the one to show me what it meant to believe.

I thought that we had found a home, but now I walk alone.

With you or without you, I have waited for so long. And now we must say goodbye for the last time. ~Cause we are two hearts, one world apart.

I thought we knew it better, but took the fruit from the vine. (Nothing can last forever, but we thought that we could try) We sealed our fate together when I put faith in your eyes. (Now what we had together breathes its last breath tonight)

I'll go on, but we have reached the end.
