This will be my best endeavour
For the first time, it's the right time
As the tide comes in I'm on the edge of who we were Without getting better
Was it really worth it?
How did we forget to breathe?

I've been running so slowly coming to you, yeah
When we save it for ourselves
It will always bring us down
Slowly falling running to you, yeah

We fall with a better understanding
We fall, tear this down to find our way out
Bring me down at last
And burn me out

Pass me always

I've been running so slowly coming to you, yeah
When we save it for ourselves
It will always bring us down
Slowly falling running to you, yeah

And we'll be fine
Till we find ourselves left behind
And we'll be fine
Till we find ourselves left behind

I've been running so (and this will not be our failure)
slowly coming to you, yeah
When we save it for ourselves
It will always bring us down
Slowly falling running to you, yeah
