"Checklist"

I must've started life with a checklist
I took the rules and broke 'em in two
I must've started life with a checklist
And the first was not giving in like you

You're burned out
Asking which half is me

You don't have to dress up
It's not a fucking fashion show
You don't have to kiss up
I'm never going to go that low

My life's my book
It is the story of what i write

My life's mine
And no one said you could change what i write

My life
Too late, too soon
My life
Too late for you
