[written by Johnathan Richman]

Well, i've already been to Paris, i've already been to Rome
But what did i do but miss my home?
Oh, New England
I went out west to Californ'
But i missed the land where i was born
I can't help it

Oh, New England

I've seen old Israel's Arab plains
It's quite magnificent, but so is Maine

Oh, New England

[third verse by Big D]

Now if you like Camden in North London
We got that spirit here in Allston
Now many people ask, "Where you from?"
With a heartfelt smile, i say, "From Boston"

Oh, new england
