I know the very ground you walk
The colors that you wear
I know the love of which you talk
I know for I am there

Let it rise and fall forevermore
For I have seen my enemy
I look and he was me
And I have fed his family

And he has fought for me
Let it rise and fall forevermore
For it's a haunted land
Where we're understood

For it's a haunted land
That we come home to
Oh guide me through this wilderness
I find two headed king

It's time and you against we two
And what the time may bring
Let it rise and fall forevermore
It's a haunted land

Where we're understood
For it's a haunted land
That we come home to
For it's a haunted land

Where we're understood
For it's a haunted land
That we come home to
