I see them everywhere, wondering what's next
And i think it's kind of fun seein' them walk around downtown
And they got the new band records
And they want everyone to check 'em

Want everyone to see that they did it first
Want everyone to know
Want everyone to care
But it's fun when we don't care, so i tell them like this

Oh no, oh no, here we go again
It's the life of the perfect scenester

And now they listen to emotional music
When they used to like PUNKROCK
Or maybe now they like chump rock
And swore they never liked punk
And they always talk about shows
But i never see 'em
And when i do they're just bummin'
Still haven't figured out that

And we just can't wait for what they got next

And they do it for the girls
Yes they do it for the girls
But it's all the wrong girls in control of them
Don't worry about anyone else
The best people are themselves
And we don't think you know yourself
