"Sweet Life"

As we were young
We believed in wonder
No shadows on our unfeigned souls
We were so much stronger

A sweet life
Unrestrained and wild
A sweet life
Glad to be a child
A sweet life
We had no price to pay
A sweet life
Day by day

As we were young
We ran through the fields
We let things take their course
Had nothing to conceal
As we were young
We could move mountains
Our childlike heart and soul
Were our strengths' fountain

A sweet life...
