True, found out what was truth
This is my last goodbye, fact and fiction always trips up you
Well you can see with your eyes this one coming in The day that she decided was to quit had enough and that was it
You surrendering control
What about wounds in your soul
Looking forward to her light sunrise
She slipped away in front of your eyes
And all that time you know (x2)
What made you happy was the beginning
She wasn't kidding
No, no not this time
And now you're laying around like a rolled up dollar bill
If that's your fix you need you can do it I don't think I will
Baby you needed something that'll kick you around
I just hope you right your wrongs before you're six feet in the ground
You surrendering control
What about wounds in your soul
Looking forward to her light sunrise
She slipped away in front of your eyes
And all that time you know (x2)
What made you happy was the beginning
She wasn't kidding
No, no not this time
Not this time (x3)
