_____countdown!

Get ready for the blast off!

And don't forget the hype!

We're going into space.

Distinguished scientists

A pesky senator

And monkey turds leaking from the lab

All brought to us play-by-play by howard cosell

You're going where no man has gone before

Because we owe you some favors

And besides you're bright

A little too bright

Step one:

Senator, your vomit,

It's time to analyze it

For the folks back home

Open the hatch, launch the war satellite

That the commies aren't supposed to know about

Our real challenge is to keep it a secret

From the press back home

You're going where no man has gone before

Don't ask us where that is??we have no idea

You're chosen for this great mission

Because you're hearty and strong

And make a lot of fuss

Especially around us

We like you better when you're far away

Have you noticed?

You're going the wrong direction

We have,

But that's your problem

We planned it that way

We had to dispose of all of you so

We can spoil the final frontier

How dare you question our star wars plans
For the farce that they are?

You're going where no man has gone before
For rocking the boat
In our temple of doom

You're on a one-way ticket to pluto
We wash our hands
Of you and your lost ark
Don't forget to write?? no no no no no
No no no no no
No no no no no
No??.
