I wake up here in this basement floor
The smell is thick and sick
I'm starring at my body
Poking out from underneath the dirty blanket
Someone asks me how we got here..
Well hell if i know
Confused to leave..my body's all messed up
I don't want any fun anymore
And who the hell was that
And where the hell am i
I should slow down,
But it was me who chose the life
So what is right to be?
Nah, i still don't know
It's terrible these people i see
So if you really want to do this...
You should know:
I would never recommend me,
To you.
I don't know who's driving this car
But it looks like reno outside
No one sits next to me, and that's cool
Cause I'm excited inside.
This place shouldn't be so fancy to me..
Why don't you believe the things they say?
The things they say....
See, i think they're all crazy
But they say they're sure it's me...
So who....do you....think must be
Tell me where is the light!
Tell me where has it gone?!
You want off the path but you..
Well- everyone will disapprove
And here we can only lose
No, i can't ruin you no, no i can't ruin you
I would never recommend me,
To you.
Oh, what have we done..
Tell me where is the light
Tell me where has it gone?
You want off the path..
But you- well..everyone will disapprove

And here we can only lose
No i wont ruin you no, no i wont ruin you
I would never recommend me..
Tell me where is the light,
Tell me why has it gone
I've gone too far
I can never be reformed
I think it's them who's crazy
But they say they're sure it's me
Damn them
Damn the world for out voting me
