Yeah!

I try to focus on the lines at the side of the road,
Through blacked out windows,
I see myself slowly fading away.
When I lock eyes with you,
You only see half of me,
You only see what you fucking heard.

I keep on trying to burn those fucking pages,
But there words have cut so fucking deep,
I can only blame myself.
I keep on trying to forget every yesterday,
It's killing me to stay here,
These worthless nights all lead to nowhere.

I keep on trying to burn those fucking pages,
But there words have cut so fucking deep,
I can only blame myself.

It's killing me to stay here,
These worthless nights all lead to nowhere.
It's killing me to stay here,
These worthless nights all lead to nowhere.

The glass cracks, as I watch the hours falling away from me.
These were the things that I kept to myself, (to myself).
These are the things that I kept to myself.
These are the things that I kept to myself.
These are the things that I kept to myself.
These are the things that I kept to myself.
