

Dear Lucy "Slow"

Visit "Slow" on MotoLyrics.com

She waits by the phone expecting it to ring
She hums through the night, but in the day she sings
She doesn't take life for granted
She's magical but she's not enchanted

I Think That We
Should Take It Slow
So Now it's Time
For You To Go

She doesn't need, somebody who will take the lead,
She just need that guy, who's perfect for her,
Someone she can call sir,
But she needs a boost to get and about
And making sure she doesn't go flat out

I Think That We
Should Take It Slow
So Now it's Time
For You To Go

She needs a man who she can trust
But her damaged heart is beginning to rust
Is there anybody who even cares
Not what she looks like or what she wears,
If you're that person hurry up and go
Even if it takes a while, it's alright because she's taking it
SLOW

I Think That We
Should Take It Slow
So Now it's Time
For You To Go

Visit Dear Lucy page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.