This is the moment that you know
That you told her that you loved her but you don't You touch her skin and then you think That she is beautiful but she don't mean a thing to me Yeah, she is beautiful but she don't mean a thing to me

I spent two weeks in Silver Lake
The California sun cascading down my face
There was a girl with light brown streaks And she was beautiful but she didn't mean a thing to me Yeah, she was beautiful but she didn't mean a thing to me

I wanted to believe in all the words that I was speaking
As we moved together in the dark And all the friends that I was telling all the playful misspellings
And every bite I gave you left a mark

Tiny vessels oozed into your neck
And formed the bruises
That you said you didn't want to fade
But they did, and so did I that day

All I see are dark gray clouds
In the distance moving closer with every hour
So when you ask, "Is something wrong?"
I think, "You're damn right there is but we can't talk about it now
No, we can't talk about it now"

So one last touch and then you'll go
And we'll pretend that it meant something so much more
But it was vile, and it was cheap
And you are beautiful but you don't mean a thing to me Yeah, you are beautiful but you don't mean a thing to
me

And we'll pretend that it meant something so much

But it was vile, and it was cheap

And you are beautiful but you don't mean a thing to me

Yeah, you are beautiful but you don't mean a thing to
me
