If i'm going down, you're coming with me keep staring at the sun i'll let the waves embrace my skin

the wind is still and the water's pouring in wish we'd known this before we auctioned off the right to be breathers of air

and to be blinded by the sunlight

so what it's friday night and you're in love monday's coming soon and you'll be giving up so sit your ass down in your favorite chair

toss one up

another liar's prayer

if the fire doesn't bring us down if the waves miraculously put it out i swear we're still all going to drown someday someday soon

to be blinded

if i'm going down
