The sky is falling down like it's done a thousand times and thousands of war brides sleep alone tonight

so press your lips to mine that's where they said you'd find it
and tell me if i'm the one
for more than just tonight

those girls begin to cry tiny tears from pretty eyes it's the same tears they've cried a thousand times will they be whole tonight

that night i swore you weren't the one that night with tornados coming on i'm sorry if my timing's a little wrong but now is not the time for love songs
