Look at me! What can you see?
Are you really, really in love with me?
Then listen carefully to me now and I'll whisper how...
How do I feel.

Maybe a bit stressed, excited or depressed I don't know.
I want to hurt you so bad, be the thorn in your heart,
Scratch your skin and make your scream until you go mad.

Cause I don't know how to love you,
Just tell me how to love you,
Should I be soft, should I be wild.
Is it true love or just a funny lie?

I must admit it, don't know what to do,
Fear is the horse I'm riding and Lust the one I'm riding through,
Now look at you, aren't you going too fast?
Watch out honey this game could be your last.

I want to stroke your hair, hold you in my arms,
Brush your lips with mine, just to keep you warm.
Use my venom to drown your sorrow,
Well, don't worry then, maybe tomorrow.

Cause I don't know how to love you,
Just tell me how to love you,
Should I be soft, should I be wild.
Is it true love or just a funny lie?
