from the vision the meditations of dreaming the lines a human respite bleed away the scarred emotions of time and fire the reputation the stone delerium tells the tale all rack and ruin caressing the face with tiny outstretched moments of discretion a demonstration astride the vision it cries of simple pain and pleasures too complex to comprehend expression the memories born of the solitude the widow is torn stand to one side in unmet chambers she is slain memories as lies - impressions memories as lies - expression memories as lies - memorise silence the face of the messenger - a savage the face of the messenger of pain spilling the lines of eternity imprisoned as memories of changeless futile fate rising above the perfection whilst it sears the banner of recivist pate savage the face of the messenger is savage the face of the messenger it hates i am the lord of pain
