oh master completion i motion blackness unbroken for all cradled notions the body is fragile the pulse is daunted seeks loving seeks impulse finds nothing the movement of the spheres means nothing to you and time scaling breath only crumbling relics to you a heap of hack imagery stockpile of bones a lie to you a wrong turn leads to a silent valley no birds call from the trees it presses you deep toward your kingdom languish there procrastinate oh sister insoluble you motion silence irreversible failed notions the creature you summon you carry you cradle eat purpose kill substance metamorphose - you enemy from your thoughts notion slips away never prepared steel commotion felt inside your thoughts broil upward but never betray the lie to you excess leads to the silent valley i vowed never to return halcyon on fields exposed as burrs and nettles sun turns through ash, eradicate emerge passage spent in humming atmosphere the ether crystallised hangs in front of your eyes starlight over my sullen valley the planet lurches round on an ancient spine
