This is the price of ignorance
Into a world of drugs.

So the beginning's always the same.
I can't understand it.

Trapped by the pleasure out in the streets.
Now his life has arrived to it's end.

There's no excuse, for this sad death.
There's no cure for this cruel death.

But this child is just different,
He moved to another town.
For... rehabilitate himself.

Three years later he back home,
Now he's just a normal man
Rehabilitated... desintoxicated.

But the justice of this world
I'll never understand it
There's no reason to kill this man
He doesn't deserve to die... of A.I.D.S.

What this man feels can't explain it with words
Now for him life's only a remembrance
So he only can stand up and shout.

Cry, cry, cry,
Die, die, die,
I'll see your face burning in your own hell, alive.

No way out,
No escape,
Think in this story that I've told you
Or die, or die, as him.

Nobody told you what to do!!!
