You worry on
Hurting anybody anymore
You worry on
Small comfort
One of us seems not to tremble
You make a rift inside me
Every day
That you choose to stay
I walk the edge and Push it wider

You are forgiven
I open all my doors
You are forgiven
What a heart is for
I am no martyr
You give me reason
I try harder
And wait for a warmer season
Meanwhile you are
Forgiven

I hear a soft noise
Like a sigh
A sining like a lullabye
It is my heart
It is this wind
That blows through
Where you held me closer
Where we wisper
This is
This is true

You are forgiven
I open all my doors
You are forgiven
What a heart is for
I am no martyr
You give me reason
I try harder
And wait for a warmer season

Meanwhile you are
Forgiven

And it's time to go
I cannot stay
You cannot know
My love
So deear
Will it be faith
Or fear

You are forgiven
I open all my doors
You are forgiven
What a heart is for
I am no martyr
You give me reason
I try harder
And wait for a warmer season
Meanwhile you are Forgiven

You are Forgiven
