I picked this yellow for my cutians
It's warm and true
And it looks like you

I catch sight of a
Wild bird on a long post
On a long fence

And I can see you everywhere
In the trees outside my window
On the street in the frozen air
I can see you there

There was a seed gray and small
In the ground of the earth
Between our hearts
We'll never know
What mystery made it grow
It will just be our history

Now I can see you everywhere
In the trees outside my window
On the street in the frozen air
Waiting
It's a promise
Waiting
It's like a dare
But you are with me
When you can not be
I can feel you here

And I can see you everywhere
I can see you everywhere

I twist in a world between Hovering
Wanting
But I don't wish this love away
I wish you back to me to stay

And I can see you everywhere
In the trees outside my window

On the street in the frozen air
Waiting
It's a promise
Waiting
It's like a dare
But you are with me
When you can not be
I can feel you here

And I can see you everywhere
I can see you everywhere
I can see you everywhere
Everywhere
Everywhere
