Standing outside, outside in the street
And I open the gate, walking in the garden
Towards the house, ringing the doorbell of the house
House in to the house Please let me in
Some are invited but only I can go in
The corridor is black wheres nr 4?
What's hiding on the other side of the door?
House in to the house...

I'm looking for number 4
I've been searching for the door

Now I'm coming in, searching for love or the holy sin
There she is in black skin I've been looking for love
But I found the sin House in to the house...

I've been looking for number 4
Now I have found the fucking door
