You've gotta know
You've won my heart and soul
I can't just let go I gave you years crying a river of tears
So you want a change baby, whose to blame
My love burns like a flame Guess our love is dead
And I guess I always will

Chorus: I'm your natural woman I'll be there when there's no one Cause my loving is real But you dont see it now since you put me down
But i'll be there for you when theres no one around

You've been my life for you I've sacrificed stayed up every night that you didn't call how I worried all alone Things feeling so strange last night I called out your name Thought I saw your face here next to me Maybe someday soon it will be

Chorus

Baby can you tell me how could you leave lonely Baby when you know that I'll give you my only heart to you, whatever you do Baby don't be a fool
I gave you time baby to make up your mind what ever you decide I want break a vaul oh no no not ever no ,no not now..
