

Deborah Conway

"Nobody's Supposed To Be Here"

Visit "Nobody's Supposed To Be Here" on MotoLyrics.com

How did you get here?
Nobody's supposed to be here
I've tried that love thing for the last time
My heart says no, no!
Nobody's supposed to be here
But you came along and changed my mind
I've spent all my life, on a search to find
The love who'll stay for eternity
The heaven sent ot fulfill my needs
But when I turn around
Again, love has knocked me down
And my heart got broken oh, it hurt so bad
I'm sad to say, love wins again

So I placed my heart under lock and key
To take some time, and take care of me
But I turn around and you're standing here

How did you get here?
Nobody's supposed to be here
I've tried that love thing for the last time
My heart says no, no!
Nobody's supposed to be here
But you came along and changed my mind

This time I swear I'm through
But if only you knew
How many times I've said those words
Then fall again, will I ever learn
Knowing these tears I cry
This lovely black butterfly
Must take a chance, and spread my wings
Love can make you do some crazy things

So I placed my heart under lock and key
To take some time, and take care of me
But I turn around and you're standing here

Visit Deborah Conway page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
