

Debra Davis "Begin Again"

Visit "Begin Again" on MotoLyrics.com

Slippin in and out of happiness
Like tryin to fit into this pretty new dress
Doesn't feel right, doesn't hang right
Doesn't seem like mine
Did I hear you say you felt like this?
Aren't we all a little lonely?
Aren't we all on the run?
Don't we all wanna be somebody's only one?
Aren't we all a little broken?
Something always on the mend
But just when you wanna give up hope and it all comes crashin in
You begin again. Begin again.
Standin on a ragged edge
Someone's lettin out my perfect hem
So I strip down to the thin sound of a drowning fear
Did I hear you say it's cold in here?
Aren't we all a little lonely?
Aren't we all on the run?
Don't we all wanna be somebody's only one?
Aren't we all a little broken?
Something always on the mend.
But just when you wanna give up hope and it all comes
crashin in
You begin again. Begin again

Visit Debra Davis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.