Why would I lie
Say your eyes don't make me cry
Say your lips don't tell me why
I wait for so long
Try as I might
Just a wingless bird in flight
Just a moon without the night
But still glowin' strong
Everybody's got their one thing, baby
Everybody's got their one thing
I could hang my head in deep shame, baby
But everybody's got their one thing
So I'm givin' in, cuz you just happen to be...
Mine, why not mine?
They say everything in time
But hey, why won't it fly
When waiting for love?
It's old, but it's home
I can feel it in my bones
Like a song that won't let go
I know you by heart
Everybody's got their one thing, baby
Everybody's got their one thing
I could hang my head in deep shame, baby
But everybody's got their one thing
So I'm givin' in, cuz you just happen to be...
Why, I'm lost and I'm found
Free, but I'm bound
Like a child who still believes
I don't want a cure
I'm shaken, but sure
You will find your way to me
(Chorus)
Mine, why not mine?
They say everything in time
