

Debra Davis "This Old Man"

Visit "This Old Man" on MotoLyrics.com

He has no skin to cover his bones
He lives in the corner house all alone
Sits in the window and watches the crazy world go by
There you will find me by his sideÂ...
He says everybodyÂ's spinnin too fast
TakinÂ' your timeÂ's a thing of the past
The only one that really lasts is love youÂ'd better give me some of that
This old man is wiser
This old man is true
Opened up my eyes there watching the world go by
from a window seat
We make each otherÂ's lives complete
He comes alive when the school bell rings Says Â"I remember walkin on wingsÂ...
We counted every step and never touched the ground
Now I realize we all get lost just to be found
This old man is wiser
This old man is true
Opened up my eyes there watching the world go by
from a window seat
We make each otherÂ's lives complete
Paint is peeling and the carpet is worn
But over and over now the memories are reborn
Through the window nothingÂ's real to his eye
He says Â"Remember once my story is told IÂ'll realize that I am old.
With a smile IÂ'll turn the page
I take my bow, you take the stageÂ...Â"
This old man is wiser
This old man is true
Opened up my eyes there watching the world go by
from a window seat
We make each otherÂ's lives complete

Visit Debra Davis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.