Loneliness, get out of my bed
This ain't the pillow where you lay your head
He still lives here I just can't make him stay
Well, move over anyway...
Cuz I can't get no rest
With these feelings droppin in like uninvited guests
My moon rises when your sun sets
Until you're home again, I just can't get no rest.
O! self pity hear you ringin' my bell
I don't want anything that you have to sell
Let you in and you're the last one to leave
But I could use the company
Cuz I can't get no rest
With these feelings droppin in like uninvited guests
My moon rises when your sun sets
Until you're home again, I just can't get no...
Happiness, I'm flirting with suspicion
Dance with my confession, but love keeps cuttin' in All alone, just starving for affection
Home without protection and these feelings droppin in...
Oh temptation on my window pane
You call my lonely heart to come out and play
Lift the glass and you will shatter my dreams
Fly away and let me be...
Cuz I can't get no rest
With these feelings droppin in like uninvited guests
My moon rises when your sun sets
Until you're home again, I just can't get no rest
