Trapped on the surface cracks shining through
No action justifying the intentions paving the way
Faults in design now giving way without structure
The end plummets down living up to the old cliché
Won't be the last time you break standing chosen to fall Contradiction of looking forward to a future that was not promised
It all sounds so sweet and then you bleed buried it all in your mind
Digging the grave so it all begins again
Vertigo
You will be taken down right where you belong

Sign this is blood promise the world away
Open yourself to nothing
And as the end comes down nothing will live forever
Clouding the pool of blood loss
The poison has taken hold and it will reign eternal Falling disaster crashing down upon creation that bows down the greet it Encourage and welcome the new messiah buried it all in your mind
Digging the grave so it begins again
Vertigo
You will be taken down right where you belong
Won't be the last time you've chosen to fall
