I was born in '86
Despite the rules and weights Survived the wild and returned with these, bear furs on my back
Defeat the family, drank the wine, get faced to garden
And face the God and run for skeins, the winners call

But we were chose the rose above, the darker skies
Final, kiss we are underneath
At final thumbly, the only ground to pure my soul
And quip my teeth, final flight is going down What main must be said, life feet before my father's crown
A kingdom made him, made it all my blue Lb can be with those Stand between be careful, waste your fix is glory's pix Heavens when I die for, I swallowed the devils and bought on me
I deal with life accordingly, one day at the time And the keen that we are, at certain fall I'll pray one day we'll be fine
So many have long and go, so many got lip behind But this times travels an orphan, rather chose to be or to charm
Planning still a lot, these angels watch over I break the chain they dare put this medals on my shoulders
'Cause I hate those fool

You'll be different
You fine come for your family
A power lies in your fate and beliefs
Is a king we are proud, or king that calls all on This is purpose.
