I ran into an old friend, I hadn't seen in a while he could not help but ask me, what's up with your new style

I followed trends but they always changed, I needed truth more than anything don't you know that Love, Love, Love got a hold on me woo, hoo, hoo

woo, hoo, hoo

now i live my life a little differently since Love found me a second cup of coffee and then he started to smile he asked me why do you take the time why go the extra mile

I'm just a friend who can't help but say come on man there's a better way what I really want to tell ya today is that I'm glad it ended up this way

I had a debt that I could never repay now there's one thing left to say

Love, Love, Love got a hold on me woo, hoo, hoo
