"...And Time Begins"

The eye is opening
Jupiter hangs - suspended like a tear
Shed upon the face of the times before us

Visions manifest right before my very eyes
I see thoughts

My inspirations empower one another
Bridging matter and spirit
The art of temperance - to bring about change
Before the sacred keys - are gone from us forever

I see beyond the black and silver sphere
About to complete it's cycle

Pieces-thousands upon thousands come together
I reflect upon the images, the symbols and their meaning
Retrograde - times to come - twilight - the passing of time, begins
Slowly forming ...structure

Finding warmth within it's darkness
I stare upon the moon - which has dilated in full It's cycle again complete,
The message is shinning through transparent clouds
It's eprivesence highlights a halo of blood,
A warm wind blows
I prophesy - a will not mine
A curse from which mankind will never rise

I've come to understand -
The visions that are placed upon me

A perception of thought beyond the infinite
The vision I see torments me.

A testament of the age, man will witness creation change
Continuation - the first measurement of time
Begin the cycle new Exposed- the light of other dimensions

Time is renewed.

Successful division of a single atom

...and so I see mans' prophecies were all lies,
Arrogantly he had lied to himself,
The ancient powers reclaim the earth
Ascending, I look down upon what use to be my body
...and I see Jupiter... as it bleeds from my eye
