

Deep Purple "The Spanish Archer"

Visit "The Spanish Archer" on MotoLyrics.com

Well there must have been a reason
For the smile that you had upon your face last night
Are you the cat that got the cream?
Did you lick your lips? Did you roll your eyes?
Can you imagine how it feels?
It's so hard to reveal, oh
I can't get through, I'm falling

I'm getting out, I'm losing ground
The Spanish Archer's gonna bring you down

Is there someone, somewhere
Waiting in the wings to take my place?
Let's not drag it out, like a Cagney death scene
Oh, in this season of change, it's not hard to explain
Like the leaves on the trees, I'm falling

And as you turn, don't look away
The Spanish Archer's gonna make you pay

Do you remember when the sky was blue?
We used to talk for miles
And now we drive along, in this thundering silence
It's such an obvious lie, with that easy smile of yours
I'm letting go, and I'm falling

I'm getting out, losing ground
The Spanish Archer's gonna bring you down

Well is there something I can say
As we stumble to the edge, have we gone too far?
Why don't we call it a day
Before we call it a nightmare, darlin'?
If we made a mistake, then all that it takes to be free
Is the wave of a hand and you're falling

And as you turn, don't look away
The Spanish Archer's gonna make you pay

Visit Deep Purple page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

