Wait before you go
so you will know what I am feeling as you leave I understand
your need for some time
some solitude
wait a while before you go
you should know
by now my heart belongs to you I know that you must leave and I can see
that it's not easy for you
know, that my soul
is always near you
wait a while before you go
you should know
Shake off all
and the leaves start falling spill the wine
and our dreams come tumbling down all around
the sounds of time
are slipping through my fingers.
