I never seen you
I never held you
But I still love you until the day I die
I never sang to you
I never cradled you
But I still love you until the day I die

I never really got the chance to ever see you
But I dreamed you your mom was happy along wit me too
I wanted to raise you ryte give you things I didn't have Now it's a memory of a time that I wish I had
But I can't be mad in the saddest dim the way
But the image of you is still there wen I lay
And I knoe your ears are wide open wen I pray
That he's talking to you but he don't knoe wat to say
I wanted to watch you grow a child of my own
Wanted to hear your voice and see your face wen I got home
I was set to be have the guidance you would need
Now I have to dream in order to see you wit me
Maybe you was a little girl who resembled your mom
Or my little son who looked up to pop
Either way my heart still melts at your very thought
And I still love you and dat will never stop cause'

I never seen you
I never held you
But I still love you until the day I die
I never sang to you
I never cradled you
But I still love you until the day I die

Navay and Marie, Orlandin T
The begining of the search to find the man in me
But it wasn't meant to be at this point in time
It had me angry on the outside but crying inside
Dens I was ready me and your mother awaited
But someone above us both had reasoned to delay it
Maybe we were too young we'll never truly know
I tried to tell myself why but I really truly don't Wat could be so wrong about something so nice

Something so devined to come in my life but no
I would never dare to ever call u a mistake
But if so your a mistake that I can take Our very first daughter that your mother could dress nice
Or that son of mine that I could of taught rhymes
But now it's all in thoughts that never came to be
But I still love you and when you're still the same to me uh

I never seen you
I never held you
But I still love you until the day I die
I never sang to you
I never cradled you
But I still love you until the day I die

I... guess it was time (it was time)
I prepared my life (I prepared my life)
And now I cry
Cus I... wasn't ready yet (wasn't ready yet)
To say goodbye (to say goodbye)
And now I wonder why

I never seen you(I never seen you)
I never held you (I never held you)
But I still love you until the day I die (but I'll still love you)
I never sang to you (I never sang to you)
I never cradled you (I never cradled you)
But I still love you until the day I die (but I'll still love
you)
