I heard this line one time 'bout tryin' to save the world
But have you ever tried to save yourself
A wide-eye suicide drive remains a fake
As if you'd ever, ever go and make that same mistake

Strung out as the night comes crawling
Your halo of thorns is falling

Blood runs cold, I feel it in my bones
But you don't know your time is up
And blood runs cold

Somebody somewhere is screamin' out the words
But do they ever really ease the pain
I guess what I'm trying to say is whose life is it anyway
Because livin', livin' is the best revenge you can play

This fall from grace
I see your face, it's over

Blood runs cold, I feel it in my bones
But you don't know your time is up
And blood runs cold

From you love was kind
Resolved, left scarred and blind
Wasted and naked in the wings
Denying twist of fate
Demanding heaven's gate
Lying in wait above the wind

Strung out as the night comes crawling
Your halo of thorns is falling

Blood runs cold, I feel it in my bones
But you don't know your time is up
And blood runs cold
Blood runs cold
Blood runs cold
