I saw you on a screen
An icon, a legend, a king
I heard it in a song
That's still going strong

A shooting star across the sky
You kiss the earth and say goodbye

Only the good die young
Only the good die young
Crashing into the sun
Only the good die young
They will always be here

I saw you in a dream
You're falling apart at the seams
I heard it in your voice
That you had no choice

This genius is a heavy load
It leads you down a lonely road
But love never dies

Only the good die young
Only the good die young
Crashing into the sun
Only the good die young

Living inside out, oh turn this chariot
Like a diamond in the sky
You take me so far away

A shooting star across the sky
You kiss the earth and say goodbye

Only the good die young
Only the good die young
Crashing into the sun
Only the good die young
Only the good die young

Only the good die young

Only the good die young
Only the good die young
Only the good die young
Only the good die young
