Destroy my idea of a perfect world that we could live in

That day may never exist
Close your eyes to nothing

Still fear, all love has gone
No, but I only see we must die

When I see my own soul,
I go through internal war
See I have a lost love,
I cry for the broken home
Go through internal war

I feel now, is the time
Your blood has been shed for a reason

Fight back, for life it self
Take back what is truly yours

Still fear, all love has gone
No, but I only see we must die

When I see my own soul,
I go through internal war
See I have a lost love,
I cry for the broken home
Go through internal war

When I see my own soul,
I go through internal war
See I have a lost love,
I cry for the broken home

But I only see we must die

When I see my own soul,
I go through internal war
See I have a lost love,
I cry for the broken home
Go through internal war
