

Del McCoury

"Laughter Keeps Running Down My Cheeks"

Visit "Laughter Keeps Running Down My Cheeks" on MotoLyrics.com

And now that laughter keeps running down my cheeks

There was a time I thought I was smart
I'd stay out all night long and break her heart
Then I'd laugh at the promises that I didn't keep
But now that laughter keeps running down my cheeks

What a fool I must have been to treat her bad
Now I know she's the best girl I ever had It's too late she's gone away from me
And now that laughter keeps running down my cheeks

What used to be so funny just don't strike me as bein' funny anymore
Cause I lost the only good thing I ever had or ever hoped for
They say the last one to laugh laughs the loudest
If you could see me now I know you wouldn't doubt it
She keeps laughin' it's not funny the joke's on me
And now that laughter keeps running down my cheeks
And now that laughter keeps running down my cheeks

Visit Del McCoury page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.