I once walked with laughter wearing love's happy face
But now I'm wearing out my heartaches in this crowded place

I lost her love but I'm still clinging to her memories
But I guess there's lots of people here like me

So all together now everybody drink

(Everybody drink)

All together now everybody think

(Everybody think)

Think of all those sweet words

That turned out to be just lies

All together now everybody cry, cry, cry

All together now everybody cry

Well, come on friends, let's gather 'round

And sing some real sad songs

Let's fill up our cups with Greepe and have a sing along

Everybody join in make the rafters ring with pain

And when the Greepe runs low we'll fill our cups again

So all together now everybody drink
