I know a businessman whose day is not complete Unless he's repossessed a house and put a widow in the streets.

He plans to repossess the preacher's beatup Ford,
But he's workin' like the devil for the Lord.

Chorus:

Are you workin', really workin', night and day, workin'
hard?

Are you workin' like the devil for the Lord?

Well, I'd hate to be in your shoes when you get your big reward

If you're workin' like the devil for the Lord.

Now some in every town will holler loud and long.

They'll tell you this is just another sacrilegious song,

But the good Lord never lets his true disciples be ignored;

They're not workin' like the devil for the Lord.
