She is deafeningly pretty, echoes are everywhere,
So I drink to gain her pity, but she don't care,
I love you Lilly but you're never alone,
Never alone,
In my dreams I fail to see why you cannot come home with
Me (I),
Way lay, scheme and play,
Oh, I could touch you, but you'd shimmy away,
I love you Lilly but you're never alone,
I love you Lilly but you're never alone
I love you Lilly but you're never alone
I love you Lilly but you're never alone
Anyway, any day, anyway, what if I wait forever?
(Cos') In my dreams we make a scene to end all scenes
with Lust supreme (but),
Way lay, scheme and play,
(It's) traces of you that trouble my view tonight,
I love you Lilly but you're never alone,
I love you Lilly but you're never alone.
