One more year of digging here
And we're alight in heaven; we're alight in heaven
If we bare the stones and stares
Then we're alight in heaven, we're alight in heaven

Mother says to hold our tongues; we are the chosen ones,
And we answer to no one,
Same dream I'm always having,
Like shivering, shivering, shivering...

Find a home amongst the trees,
Bend your branches over me,
Find a home, defy the freeze,
Dance around the rosaries...

Faith alone must clear this snow
Or we'll have doubted heaven; we'll have doubted heaven
It's finisterre for dancing bears
If we have doubted heaven; we have doubted heaven

Everyone I left behind, they think I left my mind under Mesmer, sola fide
Same dream I'm always having,
Like shivering, shivering, shivering...

Find a home amongst the trees,
Bend your branches over me,
Find a home; defy the freeze, and glow,

Find a home...

Oh I can row, I can row, I can row back home,
Or we can lay, we can lay, we can lay in sway.
